THE artistic results of the nimble pen of Lance-Corporal Purvis, in recording the painful sittings of the Staff of the New Zealand Stationary Hospital, are herewith offered as a Souvenir; and, in writing this foreword, I have only to ask the leniency of all concerned. We all know each other now, and apologies are really unnecessary.

I would point out that the Cartoonist has been so uncannily faithful that should any of us be under pecuniary obligation — to particularise would be superfluous — this book would be accepted as prima facie evidence of identification, and so we have herein real as well as sentimental value.

H.
